Dear Classmates and Extended Family,

As promised, we have produced a compendium of Collected Wisdom for our 60th Reunion and would now like to make it widely available to all classmates.

The 75-page compendium provides a selected survey of some of the lessons we learned. We represent a group of octogenarian Soldiers, Airmen and Marines who lived as children through World War II and the Korean Conflict, shared our West Point experiences, and fought in Vietnam and the Cold War.

The compendium provides some fruits of our experiences dealing with leadership, integrity, uncertainty, danger, family adventures and other complex issues with high stakes that may be pertinent for future generations, along with some humor. It also contains a section with thoughtful contributions by our spouses who were key partners on our journeys. And, appropriately, it is laced with George Finley's insightful artwork depicting the different stages in our lives.

We believe the compendium provides something worthwhile to pass on to our children, grandchildren, and others. Today, we mailed one copy to each classmate who registered and paid for our 60th Reunion or paid only for the pre-ordered items following the postponement of the reunion. We also mailed one copy to all class widows who have maintained their addresses on file with the Association of Graduates.

Additional copies are now available for $10 and may be ordered using the attached form. This letter and the order form are now available on the class website also. If you want just a single copy before deciding to order more, a follow-on order is certainly possible, as long as they last.

Go Like '60,

Dick Nelson, Charley Otstott, and John Berry
